Exception from GRE Requirement for Admission to FSU's College of Motion Picture Arts-

The proposal recommended that a GRE score be submitted, but not required, for those students who have a college grade point average of less than 3.0. Applicants who wish to be considered for university fellowships and scholarships which require GRE scores will be reminded to submit GRE scores with their applications to the Film School.

Members of the college's admissions committee will carefully review each applicant and portfolio and then meet to select those applicants invited for an on-campus interview.
